I have been practicing acupuncture for last 15 years in Sydney. A member of AACMA for all this years. Unfortunately I do not hold a bachelor degree in TCM. I graduated at The Sydney College of TCM in 1996 with the Diploma of Acupuncture. At the time there was not Advance Diploma introduced at the College.

I also completed my 3 months internship in China in Hangzhou Red Cross Hospital.

I hold all required insurances and completed all other requirements to fulfill my membership with the AACMA,

I was always recognised by Private Medical System.

I have to express my disappointment with the proposal of excluding practitioners like me in the National Registration based on Grandparenting System
