The Chinese Medicine Board of Australia’s (the Board) continuing professional development (CPD) registration standard requires all practitioners, except those with non-practising or student registration, to complete at least:

- 20 hours of CPD activities in each full registration period, or
- 5 hours for every three months of registration remaining in the registration period if you register part way through the registration period.

The Board has designed the standard to be flexible and able to be met by all practitioners except when exceptional circumstances exist.

The Board may grant a full or partial exemption or variation from the CPD requirements in exceptional circumstances where there is compelling evidence that the circumstances have prevented you from practising and created a significant obstacle to your ability to complete CPD. The Board takes the individual circumstances of each application into consideration when it decides whether to grant an exemption from CPD.

For more information about what circumstances the Board considers a significant obstacle to completing CPD, see the CPD guidelines and other supporting material published by the Board.
