Authority
This standard was approved by the Australian Health Workforce Ministerial Council in December 2011 pursuant to the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law Act, as in force in each state and territory with approval taking effect from 1 July 2012.

Summary
Under the National Law practitioners who were registered on 30 June 2012 with the Chinese Medicine Registration Board of Victoria will automatically transition to the new national registration and accreditation scheme on 1 July 2012. Registration under the national scheme is required in all states and territories of Australia.

Chinese medicine practitioners who do not automatically transition into the national scheme on 1 July 2012 must apply to be registered to practise as a Chinese medicine practitioner.

Under section 52 of the National Law, an individual is eligible to apply for general registration if they have successfully completed a qualification recognised under the National Law as an approved program of study, or if they hold an overseas qualification which is considered by the Board as equivalent to an approved program of study.

Section 303 of the National Law, sets out the ‘grandparenting’ provisions for individuals to be eligible to apply for registration to the profession but who do not hold an academic qualification gained by completing an approved program of study. These provisions apply until 30 June 2015.

The intent of the grandparenting provisions is to ensure that practitioners who are legitimately practising the profession (particularly in those jurisdictions that did not require registration) are not unjustly disadvantaged because they are not current state or territory registrants or do not hold a qualification obtained by completing an approved program of study.

The Board may decide to impose conditions on registration.

The Board will assess applications for general registration under the grandparenting arrangements on their individual merit and if unsure about their eligibility practitioners are encouraged to apply.

Scope of application
This standard applies to all applicants for general registration under section 303 of the National Law and sets out the qualification requirements for general registration per section 303 from 1 July 2012 until 30 June 2015.

Registration under the national scheme is a requirement in all state and territories in Australia.

Requirements
Practitioners may apply for registration within one or more of the following divisions of the National Register:

- Acupuncturists
- Chinese herbal medicine practitioners
- Chinese herbal dispensers.

An applicant for general registration must meet the eligibility requirements of the National Law, including meeting the requirements of the approved mandatory registration standards and any requirements of the Board for supervised practice or any examination or assessment.

The qualifications to obtain general registration are set out in section 53 of the Act. However, existing practitioners who do not qualify under section 53 may be eligible to practise per the special rules that allow the National Board to register competent practitioners during the first three years.

Section 303(1) of the National Law states that for the purposes of section 52(1)(a), an individual who applies for registration as a Chinese medicine Practitioner before 1 July 2015 may be qualified for general registration in the profession if the individual:

a) holds a qualification or has completed training in the profession, that the National Board considers is adequate for the purposes of practising the profession; or
b) holds a qualification or has completed training in the profession, and has completed any further study, training or supervised practice in the profession required by the Board for the purposes of this section; or
c) has practised the profession at any time between 1 July 2002 and 30 June 2012 for a consecutive period of 5 years or any periods together which amount to 5 years.

Section 303(1) of the National Law is referred to as the grand-parenting provisions.

Assessment of applications for general registration under grand-parenting provisions

1. For applicants making application under 303(1)(a)
A relevant course of study that is accredited at Bachelor degree level (or higher) under the Australian Qualifications...
2. For applicants making application under 303(1)(b)

A qualification and any further study, training or supervised practice which is broadly consistent with a minimum of Advanced-Diploma-level in the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Such qualification/s and/or further training or supervised practice must include:

For practitioners (acupuncture and Chinese herbal medicine)

a) a clinical component which is > structured (clinical learning designed to be progressive through the various stages of the program of learning, inclusive of a comprehensive range of clinical presentations that cover all the clinical areas), > directly supervised by practitioners with appropriate qualifications, clinical experience, and understanding of the curriculum and teaching requirements > formally assessed (formative and summative, addressing all clinical skills, against clear learning outcomes)
   > minimum 200 hours

OR

2 years practice evidence, and

b) training in Chinese medicine theory including differential diagnosis and the design of individualised acupuncture and/or Chinese herbal medicine prescriptions; and

c) training in biomedical sciences (i.e. anatomy, physiology, microbiology, pharmacology, pathology, clinical diagnosis and therapeutics); and

d) ethics, jurisprudence, and practice management.

For dispensers

a) practical training such as:
   > courses that aimed to train Chinese herbal medicine practitioners, and that included a substantial amount of education and training in herbal dispensing > phytochemistry and pharmaceutics; and > dispensing Chinese medicinal substances: theory and adequate practical training; and > ethics, jurisprudence, practice management.

The Board will publish on its website a list of course known to meet these requirements.

3. For applicants making application under 303(1)(c)

Required Practice Evidence

Evidence of practice within the profession at any time between 1 July 2002 and 30 June 2012 for a consecutive period of 5 years or any periods which together amount to 5 years. The evidence of practice must represent 5 years of practice within the division of registration being applied for.

The evidence that the Board considers acceptable proof of practice is included as Schedule 1.

Required Competence Evidence (section 52(1)(b)(ii))

Acupuncture

To demonstrate competence an applicant must provide evidence that they are competent to provide the full range of acupuncture intervention methods to a member of the public who consults them for such a service. This would be expected to include the differential diagnosis of the person’s condition and the design of a treatment specific to the person’s condition and adequate knowledge to ensure the safe insertion, manipulation, removal and disposal of needles and other stimulation methods such as electro-acupuncture and cupping.

Chinese herbal medicine

To demonstrate competence an applicant must provide evidence that they are competent to provide the full range of administration methods and routes in Chinese herbal medicine to a member of the public who consults them for such a service. This would be expected to include the differential diagnosis of the person’s condition and the design of a herbal formula specific to the person’s condition, and adequate knowledge to ensure the safe selection, combination and dispensing of herbs and proper instructions to the patient about dosage etc. The patient could also reasonably expect that a person who is registered as a Chinese herbal medicine service would understand the properties and application of the herbs individually as well as in formulae in various forms such as decoction, pills, capsules etc. The non decoction administration may involve use of raw herbal powders (traditional preparation of pills) and extracted granular that involve the appropriate use of solvents such as ethanol.

The evidence that the Board considers acceptable proof of practice is included as Schedule 2.

Documentation

All documents must be certified copies of the original. Refer to the Certified Documents (02/2011) guidelines accessible on the AHPRA website at http://www.ahpra.gov.au/Registration/Registration-Process/Certifying-Documents.aspx

Other Powers

The Board may require an applicant to provide additional evidence of their qualifications, training, further study, supervised practice or length of practice.

The Board may also investigate an applicant including requesting the applicant to undertake an assessment in accordance with section 80(1) of the National Law.

Conditions and refusal of registration

When registering practitioners for general registration s.52(2) of the National Law enables the Board to impose conditions.

The Board may refuse to grant registration on any of the grounds set out in s.80(1)(c) of the National Law.

Definitions

National Law means the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law Act, as in force in each state and territory

Practice means any role, whether remunerated or not, in which the individual uses their skills and knowledge as a health practitioner in their profession. For the purposes of this registration standard, practice is not restricted to the provision of direct clinical care. It also includes working in a direct nonclinical relationship with clients; working in management, administration, education, research, advisory, regulatory or policy development roles; and any other roles that impact on safe, effective delivery of services in the profession and/or use their professional skills.

Review

This standard will commence on 1 July 2012 and cease on 1 July 2015.
